William Balaile

Web Developer | Founder @ Kiganjani Co.

Dar es Salaam

Summary

Full-stack web developer with a background in Arts using code to create web-based solutions that enable communication in the digital space.

As a believer in free & open internet, open-source technology is at the core of my development process (current stack: MEVN, Python + MySQL). Builds are complemented by implementing minimalism to guide the design process and integrating organic growth strategies for sustainable scaling.

Currently: exploring social media to grow my brand.
